Blending technology with traditional craftsmanship

Every winter, Heartwood Mills harvests Northern White Cedar from Michigan's Upper Peninsula using environmentally sensitive harvesting and removal techniques. We also harvest large virgin timbers of Spruce and Pine that often grow in the same forests. Special one-of-a-kind timbers are harvested from areas partially damaged by nature.

After harvesting, Heartwood Mills kiln dries each product to perfection in order to supply our customers with nature's finest and most perfectly crafted building materials. Heartwood Mills combines handcrafting with 21st century technology, efficiently producing a range of exterior and interior wood building products.

Heartwood Mills is your building partner, reliably supplying Northern White Cedar, Pine, Spruce and Fir year-after-year.
